

Jeffrey Jennison

President

Watson Land Company

As President, Jeff Jennison manages the entirety of Watson's 20 million square foot portfolio. His many years in the commercial real estate industry have made him an expert in portfolio management, new construction, building systems, project transition and start-up, tenant retention programs, emergency building procedures and inspections, management plans, and budgeting requirements.

Jeff is a graduate of the University of Southern California and a licensed California Real Estate Salesperson. Additionally, Jeff is working to become a Certified Property Manager® with the Institute of Real Estate Management, in which he is actively involved. He is also involved in the Building Owners Management Association and the Big Brother Program of Orange County.
